Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Monday 10 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny spells and scattered showers, some heavy.

Today:
A bright start to the day with sunny spells but scattered showers will develop, some of these turning heavy in the afternoon. Feeling quite warm when the sun comes out with a light southeasterly breeze. Quite cloudy around east coasts. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:
A few showers lingering through the evening and cloud might be slow to clear for the northwest but generally a clear, calm night. A few showers are likely around daybreak. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tuesday:
Showers are likely on Tuesday morning but it might stay dry in the east. Feeling pleasantly warm in any sunshine. Fresh southeasterly winds around east coast in the morning. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
A mix of sunshine and showers but quite cloudy at time especially around northeastern coasts when the winds fall light. Feeling pleasantly warm in any sunshine.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.